I don't think I'll find the love I want
The love I'm searching for in this machine The systems failed, all the circuits blown, and the message lost in this machine Tried all the codes, all possibilities, all combinations, but still nothing Called for backup from my assistants but no one seems to know anything Disconnect, shut the main reactor down, and separate from this technology
I tried, you know I tried, I tried Hard as it may be I know you should be with me Even though it seems it's all lies I still believe you should be with me
