I find I get lost for words around you,
Overwhelmed by your presence,
I feel the same, I hear the words you won't say, Echo through your eyes,
Nothing more for me to say,
Silence, understand some things,
What is meant to be will be,

Sometimes it's the words that we don't say that get in the way,
Time will break down the walls that we've built between us,
I won't ever be,
Speechless,

This feeling takes me just like a painted sky,
How do I describe all these colours inside?
Nothing left for me to say anyway,

Sometimes it's the words that we don't say that get in
the way,
Time will break down the walls that we've built between
us,
Sometimes it's the words that we don't say that get in
the way,
Time will break down the walls that we've built between
us,

I wanna know you inside out,
I want to know you without a doubt,
And though we're shy,
Would it be easier just to say goodbye?
I want to learn to read your mind,
I want to say the words but my tongue gets tied,
And don't feel shy,
Would it be easier just to say goodbye?

I find I get lost for words around you,
Overwhelmed by your presence,

Sometimes it's the words that we don't say that get in
the way,

Time will break down the walls that we've built Sometimes it's the words that we don't say that get in
the way,
Time will break down the walls that we've built between
us,
I won't ever be,
Won't ever be
I won't ever be
Speechless
