I promise not to say a word tonight
I already feel numb inside
The questions I must ask are gone
And you're gone, so gone...

I promise not to shed another tear
Those days are left behind, yet you hold so dear
You should really know me by now
I didn't try to hurt you, I just feel apart somehow

Chorus:

I'll be waiting for your return
This love is not over, it just took a turn
The space we need will make us stronger
And I'll be stronger, I promise

I know you miss me, you always do
Something you can't hide from me is the truth
Your actions speak louder than your words
Remember I know you and I know you've been hurt
I promise to wait until it's time
I don't need a ring, just make up your mind
I've grown so much being by your side
I've learned that true love, true love takes time

Chorus:

I'll be waiting for your return
This love is not over, it just took a turn
The space we need will make us stronger
And I'll be stronger, I promise

I know we need to take some time
To think what we want, what's on our mind
But this love won't end
We'll be stronger... I promise

Te prometo mi amor...
