I'm not saying anything this time to stop you
Instead I'll just sit back from here and watch you
I always thought you'd take your troubles somewhere else
But each discussion just seems more and more rediculous

My eyes are open
I'll be up all night
If you plan to leave don't bother with the light

Quarter 'till my mind is racing
Half past, still my body's facing
The door - you left it open in retaliation
I was here for you with no reciprocation

My eyes are open
I'll be up all night
If you plan to leave don't bother with the light

Just don't leave tonight
So I can sleep
