First things first my friend
A change
He says that words are meaningless
Unless you wanted to
You really wanted to sing the perfect song
A song of love
One to remind you of the True meaning
Tomorrow
The day will bring you life he says
The sun in him don't shine
So i'm watching the morning sun rise
Until your world descends
Round and round and round you'll spin again
Then suddenly you seem still
Cause your hearts not filled
Can you breathe if
Every hearts broken
Take my air to
Seal all dispair
So we can breathe tommorow
Today will bring you life he says
The sun in him don't shine
So i'm watching the morning sun rise
When you finally get across
You can watch the path that rain has washed if someone asks where have i gone
Tell them i'm at home
