You got an outfit fit for a casket
And someone wants to put it to use
Cause don't care anything for anyone
The whole story's not about you

Try these eyes for size take another view
As the wrecking ball rushes towards you
Stuck behind the fence is where you stare
But you don't know what's at stake, you were taught not to care

You got an outfit fit for a casket
And someone wants to put it to use
Cause don't care anything for anyone
The whole story's not about you

You are just concerned with your fucking self
The unpleasant life of others generates your wealth
Gun to your head, too late for "lesson learned"
The harm's been done and this man is not concerned

Got an outfit...

Trapped in yourself
Trapped in yourself
Trapped in yourself
Oh he'll set you free

My condolences.
