A new day has begun The worst is over now but the damage has been done And you bear the scars of everything that you've been through Now you have someone who believes in you

Free like the earth strong as the mountain Free like the ocean wild in the storm
Free like the fire burning brighter than a star
Free like the wind whispering in your heart

The brightest star I know I just want to see your true colours show
There within your heart let your Light shine for all to see So you can be the best that you can be

Free like the earth strong as the
Free like the ocean wild in the
storm
Free like the fire burning brighter
than a star
Free like the wind whispering in your heart
I'm free.

Wherever you find your home
You can take us with you wherever you roam There's a place within our hearts and you'll always be there You're earth water fire and air

Free like the earth strong as the

Free like the ocean wild in the
storm
Free like the fire burning brighter
than a star
Free like the wind whispering in your heart

I'm Free
Free like the ocean Free like the fire burning Free like the wind whispering in your heart
