If I should run into someone like you again
and stumble and fall.

If I should run into someone like you again
and crack my head against the wall.

I wouldn't mind at all
I don't mind at all

If i should stand before someone like you again
i'd have to get on my knees and crawl.
and if i should stand up to someone like you again
you'd only make me feel so small.

But i don't mind at all
I don't mind at all

I drift away and you
make me forget what I was going through.
I drift away and you
make me forget what i was going to.

But i don't mind at all

If i should pick up the phone right now i hope it's you that has ruined my calls and if i should talk to someone like you right now it'll only make me feel week and small

But I don't mind at all .

I drift away and you
make me forget what I was going through.
I drift away and you
make me forget what i was going to.

But I don't mind at all
