What's it gonna be?
Are you really lea-walking away from this
What it's gonna take?
Can you really break this love?

Where you gonna go?
Tell me do you know when is your heart in need?
Cause if you leave, baby then leave
Make up your mind before you shut the door

Cause if there's a chance
We might've missed
And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

When we're back in time,
You know we have tried too hard to let this thing
Almost disappeared, til we made it here, baby
And look me in the eye, promise I won't cry
This is your choice to make
Cause if you go, baby then go
You change your mind I won't be here no more

Cause if there's a chance
We might've missed
And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

And if there's a small piece left of us
Somewhere in the matters we have last
Baby look at me cause this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over

What's it gonna be?
Are you really lea-walking away from this

Cause if there's a chance
We might've missed
And if there's a ray of light in this
Baby you should know that this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

And if there's a small piece left of us

Somewhere in the matters we have last
Baby look at me cause this is where my heart takes over, over..over...

This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
This is where my heart takes over, over
