It's all about time, it's all about waiting, it's just you and yourself feeling so alone, with everyone.
Just three words, suicide to lose every single smile.
Many empty days to change my only reason I still don't know what I'll become, can't stop asking, breathless I'm living.
Close your eyes and I'll become your saviour, your friend, your lover, your home.
Devoured by you black cancer.
I'm fed by my demons and my hate.
I still don't know what I'll become.
I still don't know if you will come.
Sleep and wish my love, grab your dreams and hold them strong.
You're my reason, you're my hope.
Goodnight true love, I am gone.
