Oh you, you've been lusting around
And I, noticed something permeating from your cheek
So go, give it up cause you want to
You played me good
Well I hope you're way more advanced at breaking hearts than I am
So sing along to all I hate

I cannot stand
Where this is going
I've known so long that you've already played me out
What should I know?
Why wont you tell me, the secrets no one knows

Your eyes have opened since
This record player shows how it should have been
Oh yeah so you see things straight now
At least now you know what were all about
So sing along to all I hate

These words they hurt my ears
They say I've been to soft
But you're the one my dear
Who has failed the game of love
You excel at being used
You know, you say that this turns you on
But I could do it to You're just too easy
