I've seen it done before
The way she comes and goes
But I offer myself with no strings attached
Cause you're all wrapped in them so please
When I take off my shirt
Choose me for me
And not the heart that's on my sleeve
Yeah I'd have to be so stupid to believe

And I have
The strength to carry on
This is how we are
Cheating without a kiss
Is possible, it's possible
So you
No not even you
You with your tiny hands
Can slip inside and sew me up
With one of your strings, god knows you have enough

Why don't you break free from your chains girl
The rust has eaten them half through
And I can't bare to live to see you dying
When I'm dying to see you live
It's like a curse I can't shake
You're like a habit I cannot break
And I'm so tired from being awake
Why is hell always my escape
I don't know what I'm to do
Cause it's always been you
