Watch out, the lizard man comes,
Beware his serpent tongue,
Must hide from his evil eyes,
Must run from the dead ones cries,
He sees in to your dreams,
It's "him" that makes you scream.

Hey you, do you wanna feel pain?
I'll take you to his domain,
Show you the lizard man's lair,
Show you what lies in there,
Dead dreams of dying rock stars,
Sat there with their broken guitars,
Sad fools with their minds full of cash,
And arrogance that met it's match,

Yeah!
Yeah!

He lives!
He lives!

Bring it on down for the freakiest guy,
He's a sinner and that's no lie,
He's more than just a twisted fiend,
He's worse than anything you've dreamed,
Get down to the sound of his song,
Get down, because you won't be here long...

Yeah!
Yeah!

He lives!
He lives!

You cannot get away, you cannot break though,
It's the lizard man, he lives in you,

Slipping away though time and space...
