"Hold Your Own"

I come so far your left behind
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
Just dead weight on my mind
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
Dragging you is killing time
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
Lack of drive your only bind
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
Take a step back and realize
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
There's a lot more out there, just open your eyes
(Hold your own, Hold your own)
I want to see you stand alone
Take a step down from your throne
You're not your possessions or what you own
Stuck in the only world you've known

I've been telling you for years
It's been falling on deaf ears
There be a time when I'm not here
No one left in your life to steer
Take it on yourself
Time to change into someone else

You've been feeding on your friends
Soon their charity will end
You think you lead, you walk astray
You think they follow, they walk away
Take it on yourself
Time to change into someone else

Left too long left too late
Waiting for others to fix your fate
No one left to care
Your problems yours for you to bear
Just let your life begin
Step from the shelter your hiding within
Seize today not tomorrow
It's not just time to waste
