Without sacrifice
Without losing chase
There is no remorse
For the sappy ways
Changing attitudes
Only haste remains
There is one recourse
That we have to get away

After it all, after it all

And he thought he'd get away
That's not fair, not brave
And she knew it from the start
And tried to take that cheater heart

After it all, after it all
It was their fault
On every avenue
They're all secret rendez-vous
No one sees them
They go on and play

And he thought he'd get away
That's not fair, not brave
And she knew it from the start
He tried to trick and cheat her heart

I look around
And i hold you
But still there is no happiness
I look around
And i scold you
But still there is no happiness
I look around
And i told you
But still there is no happiness
I look around
