Always take the stairs
The escalators don't go anywhere
Even if they bring you up
It's the weightlessness you know

I won't let you down
I won't let you down
You would never know
If it's my head or my toes

Never lick a stamp
Postcards over the ocean get damp
The glue could make you sick
Is it the acid or the tramp?

I won't let you down
I won't let you down
You would never know
If it's my head or my toes

In my life, plain and simple
The gift of the unknown
It takes place
The size of a thimble
The willingness to be gone
To travel, unravel
To teleport or leave home
Extinction, extinction
Extinction of the war

I won't let you down
I won't let you down
