Whatever thrills you, takes your place
Who's gonna kiss you, with no face?
Who tried to kill you, what's his name?
Look in the mirror, can't escape

Cause I'm diggin' my own grave
And I'm diggin' my own grave

Who's gonna miss you when you're gone?
Who's gonna dig you your grave?
Dig your grave

[Solo ? Josh Childers]

Will you leave this world a gift,
Or fly an albatross in your wake?

Cause I'm diggin' my own grave
And I'm diggin' my own grave
(Oh, dig that grave)

It's a lonely, lovely road, every step nearer your grave
Every mile farther from home, another year, another place
A traveler lives a thousand lives, can't take them with him anyway
Got too much to see, too many memories to take

Cause I'm diggin' my own grave
And I'm diggin' my own grave

[Solo ? Patrick Judge]

Cause I'm diggin' my own grave
And I'm diggin' my own grave
Cause I'm diggin' my own grave
And I'm diggin' my own grave
Oh yeah
