This is my wishbone
This is my hope for you
Cause I pull the right side you pull the left heart
You'll have some wishing to do

But at least with a strong grip
You could grab hold of your life
No emotional tackdown
Fear of commitment
Breakfast of champion delight

But all is well in my neighborhood
Well I have heard this tune done before
The good good girl I came when I said I would Loving and leaving my emotions behind was my fatal light (3x)

I look down, around, but the celing's fixating me while the cars are passing by I'm pale, frail, the hours they're greeting me while the cars still pass on by My life is passing by (3x)

This is my wishbone
This is my prayer for you
Cause I pull the right side you pull the left heart
You have some praying to do

But at least with a strong grip
You could grab hold of your life
No emotional tackdown
Fear of commitment
Breakfast of champion delight

All is well in my neighborhood
Well I have heard this tune done before
The good good girl that came when I said I would Loving then leaving my emotions behind was my fatal light (3x)
