There's a man with a friendly plea
Who drink cofee rather than tea
I've been listen to his prophercy
And I don't need another

He smoke super fine clove cigarette

There's a man fight for demand where I could never win a game
My first to protect my hugs to attack
How could you tell me whose to blame?

World is full of amateur
Their is acting like a pro
If I could talk like a holyman
Can I be the cannonist to??

Super fine clove cigarette...
