All last night we lay in bed making love
I never felt so much before with anyone
I never had to say a word, it was all right there
The warmth inside us flamed and circled everywhere

And if I never have another love
Well at least I had last night
Now I know, how the feeling grows
'Cause you made me come alive

I'll never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
I only wanna give you more

Now you're gone, I'm all alone just lying here
Waiting for the moment when I'll feel you near
I never asked if you'd come back, I was too damn proud
I just smiled and touched your hair as you walked out

And if I never have another love
Well at least I had last night
Now I know, how the feeling grows
'Cause you made me come alive

I'll never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
I only wanna give you more

And if I never have another love
Well at least I had last night
Now I know, how the feeling grows
'Cause you made me come made me come alive

I'll never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you

Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you

Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
Never get enough, never get enough
Never get enough of you
