I didn't really walk away, I had something to explain Trying to reach you night and day when I did not know your name
Shall we promise just to talk and be alone, all alone

Why can't the voice that said hello at the moment of first sight
Whisper the words I need to know speak to me that way tonight
Let me hear it travel through the restless sky straight from you
Come to me today

One step closer forward motion
One step near our destination

How can I bring myself to sleep till I'm resting by your side Sharing the secrets hard to keep when you live them all through the night
And then wake up with the words I'll always want you to say
Come to me today

One step closer forward motion
One step near our destination

A lonely man has come undone, is it wrong to think I understand
Where you are as close to me, not much further to go Let me hear it travel through the restless sky straight
from you
Come to me today

One step closer forward motion
One step near our destination
