Love comes and goes
Destiny unknown
Leads you to the promised land
Or leaves you head in hand

Tears fall like rain
Coming down once again
Stranger lost in a distant land
Language hard to understand

Seems like years have slipped away
Still have so much left to say
And I can't wait to tell you

When the spirit of love comes to you
Let it into your heart
Now's the time to turn away
From the ghost of yesterday

Let the spirit of love shine through you
Let me into your heart
I'll be the one to shelter you
The spirit of love will guide us through

Love right or wrong
Somehow we must carry on
If only words were spoken true
If only I could trust in you

To believe in the dream
Of what could be
Hidden clues to the mystery
It's time to set yourself free

When the spirit of love comes to you
Let it into your heart
Now's the time to turn away
From the ghost of yesterday

Let the spirit of love shine through you
Let me into your heart
I'll be the one to shelter you

The spirit of love will guide us

Where have the moments gone
Why have I been so lonely
I wanted to believe in you
I needed to believe in someone
I believe in you

Let the spirit of love come to you
Let the spirit of love come to you

When the spirit of love comes to you
Let it into your heart
Now's the time to turn away
From the ghost of yesterday

Let the spirit of love shine through you
Let me into your heart
I'll be the one to shelter you
The spirit of love will guide us through

When the spirit of love comes to you
Let it into your heart
Now's the time to turn away
From the ghost of yesterday

Let the spirit of love shine through you
Let me into your heart
I'll be the one to shelter you
The spirit of love will guide us through
