WHO AM I

Who am I to understand
The ways of love a grain of sand
To fall between these fingers
That I hold

Who am I that you should trust
A wind that turns a stone to dust
A mountain to surrender all its gold

And who am I to say, you should believe in me

And who am I to say I love you
One reason why love cannot die
Tell me who am I

(DOUBLE VOICE)
Who am I, I never knew
My heart was roaming from or to
(I don't know where we are going to)
The different arms between my day and night
(All I want is just to be with you)

Who am I, a distant sun
A thought before the moment's gone
(Just a thought before the moment's gone)
And I will never let you from my side
(You will always be the only one)

And all I have to say you can believe in me

For who am I to say I love you
One reason why love cannot die
You are on my heart remembers
Tell me who am I

And who am I to say I love you
One reason why love can not die
Tell me who am I

For who am I to say I love you

One reason why love cannot die
You are on my heart remembers
Tell me who
Tell me who am I
