"Game Day"

I've been clutching my heart for so long
And we play with the time
Before we will tear apart

Tell me that you were down
Are you thinking I never knew what it's like to be
Down Down Down
Just a game every day is a new day for the horizon

I don't ever want to see it
Take me to another place
I don't ever want to see it
Take me to another place

I've been here from the start and I'm strong
But we stray from the line
That we used to walk along
Tell me that you were down
Are you thinking I never knew what it's like to be
Down Down Down
Just a game every day is a new day for the horizon

I don't ever want you but you don't even care
I'll never need you so throw it all away
I would not have it any other way
