Why do I have to dig so deep
To get anywhere at all
When the one that I love the best
Requires no digging at all

Why do I have read between
The lines to get the story
When the one that I love the best
Requires no decoding at all

But everywhere you go, you know I will be there
And everywhere I go, I know you will be there
Inside my heart until it stops
Stops it's beating

Why do I have to walk in line
And not get to either side
In the place that I love the best
Its impossible to have a divide

Why do I have to bite my tongue
And not tell you what I see
When the one that I love the best
Is watching everything I see

But everywhere you go, you know I will be there
And everywhere I go, I know you will be there
Inside my heart until it stops
Stops it's beating
