Please excuse me if I
Seem to be out of step with Whatever's going on
I've just got a small problem

I don't belong in this world
I tried my best
Could be better
And that's as good as it gets

And it's making me crazier
And it's making me lazier
So tired of trying so hard, so long

I'm not the one you see
I'm just a fading reflection
Of all that I hear and see..
And upon further reflection

I don't belong in this world
No one does, that's the problem
And that's as good as it gets

And it's making me crazier
And it's making me lazier
So tired of trying so hard, so long

I don't belong in this world
I don't belong in this world
I don't belong in this world
