

The Static Minority

"The Grey Truth"

Visit "The Grey Truth" on MotoLyrics.com

If I could, I would change everything
That's ever gone wrong
But you can't just pick up a stone
And throw away part of the world

(Prechorus)

Well heavy hearts are making us slow
Crushed dreams are leaving us nowhere to go
The silver lining's forgotten to show
The night is darkest but dawn's not gonna show, is it?

(Chorus)

'N this finish line ain't checkered black and white
It's painted black and blue
And this life ain't a white lie
It's the grey truth

(Verse2 - same chords as verse1)

I've come too far to say that nothing's wrong
There's always something going on
Time doesn't go so fast when you're having fun
It's just the boring times take twice as long

(Repeat prechorus)

(Repeat chorus x2)

Visit The Static Minority page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.