It's not enough to say you're trying,
Everyone here knows you're lying now
Just let it go

God, I'm so sorry I never meant to, become such a cynical bot
But the world all around me is stealing my heart
And wasting all my time

So this is all I have to give you

I'm waiting, waiting, for better days to come and save me
Hoping, praying, patiently, just waiting

It's not enough to say you're changing,
Years go by we're still the same
And now, we can't let go

Oh I'm so sorry, I never meant to hurt myself like this
When you settle for less, it's always best,
To break before it lasts

Oh I'm so sorry I never meant to,
Become such a cynical boy in December
But the world keeps on changing,
I'm ready for changing, I'm ready so let's go
