[Alioth:]

My King, a menace is approaching us now
Brave mighty warriors a battle will break out
Ancestors left the mountain to advise wisely
A tough plan must be made for our existence

Leave these lands and bring us hope for the future
Take your fastest horses and light the dark

A journey through dangerous lands,
Trying to achieve the mission
A few men called the Messengers of Fate

Ancestors left the mountain to advise wisely
A tough plan must be made for our existence

Leave this lands and bring us hope for the future
Take your fastest horses and light the dark

A journey through dangerous lands
Trying to achieve the mission
A few men called the Messengers of Fate

[The Seneschal:]

Oh wise ones, listen to my thoughts
And let the riders reach their destination
Help them to complete their assignment,
Help them to join the armies of the world

[Alioth:]

Leave this lands and bring us hope for the future
Take your fastest horses and light the dark

A journey through dangerous lands
Trying to achieve the mission
A few men called the Messengers of Fate
