(Mel Tillis)

Tonight I'm going out and burn some bridges
But only on the road that leads to you
Find a bar and drown a million mem'ries
What else is there left for me to do.

This time I won't give in and let you put me through Another day for you to play with a heart that worships
you
'Cause tonight I'm going out and burn some bridges
But only on the road that leads to you.

--- Instrumental ---

Tonight I'm going out and burn some bridges
Across the crazy river of regret
Find someone who thinks a little of me
And maybe somehow then I can forget.

This time I won't give in and let you put me through
Another day for you to play with a heart that worships
you
'Cause tonight I'm going out and burn some bridges
But only on the road that leads to you...
