(Doc Richardson - Bun Wilson)

What would you say if I ask you if you'd take me back again
Anger runs wild like a wildfire along to fury by the wind
And anger controled us, it blinded our eyes We couldn't see what was to be
And now you cry a lot I sit around and sigh a lot Since we've said goodbye
A lot of things have changed for you and me.

We've lost that happy feeling that we shared When times were good and love was new I live my life in loneliness for my heart still remembers loving you
And talking to walls just ain't my idea of passing away
the time
For learning to live with regrets that keep on tearing at my mind.

If one tiny spark burns the light in the dark don't let it die
Oh, don't let it die
And search your heart a lot dream of a brand new start a lot Since we've been apart
A lot of things have changed for you and me
Oh, don't let it die, no, don't let it die...
