(Carl Knight - Charles Pendleton - Abe Rotwein)

I love you so please go on home untouched the way you came.

We come here to steal heaven it seems right love tells us so
But when we awake tomorrow there'll be no place to go To hide what we see in the mirror lying there in shame
I love you so please go on home untouched the way
you came.

Darling, I can't let you do the things I asked of you True love can't grow where the neon lights shine just outside the room
So go to him before I change my mind and ruin your name
I love you so please go on home untouched the way
you came.

Go just the way you came untouched by any man Except the one who waits for you so go home while you can
Our love won't grow and seeds you sow are covered up in shame
I love you so please go on home untouched the way
you came.

I love you so please go on home untouched the way
you came...
