I'll be with you, under the light of the moon's sweet shelter,
A bright new wonder,
And my heart beats, above the streets,
And see the city sleeps for you,
And me, the night has fallen silently

And to feel no fear, upon the edge of the cruel, steel shadow,
It's the end of sorrow,
and the night reveals, all of her secrets,
And see the city sleeps for you,
And me the night has fallen silently, silently

Change the world, change the world,
All the world, all the world
