In about three years we will be out on our own We'll be paying the bills making a house into a home Even if the ceiling leaks there's no place I'd rather be Than here with you making a life with me

And I am taking this oath
That I will take care of us both (and I swear, and I swear)
That in my arms, I will keep you safe from harm
And together we'll take on the world

With money and time in such a short supply We'll be working hard just to live and get by
And I think you would agree, there's no place you'd rather be
Then here in our home, building a life with me

And I am taking this oath
swear)
That in my arms, I will keep you safe from harm
And together we'll take on the world

I know the world seems scary now and we're safe in our dorms if we just disavow That soon college will be over But come to think about it I am not afraid I'm just so thankful that you stayed
The hard part's over now, we have time to figure it out, we have the rest of our lives

And I am taking this oath
swear)
That in my arms, I will keep you safe from harm
And together we'll take on the world
And together we'll take on the world
