Is it summer time tonight? Am I ready? Are you sure its right? There's so much to lose.

I never thought I'd ever try most of the things that I dream at night so

Watch me tremble and fall down trying everything I'm afraid of.

But not to try would be such a crime.

It's the day you believe in something.

The way you can face your life and say I can be anything that I can imagine.

Is it summer time tonight?

Is the confidence I feel inside questioned by the answers I don't know are right?

If you say you believe i me then

Watch me tremble and fall down trying everything I'm afraid of.

But not to try would be such a crime.

It's the day you believe in something.

The way you can face your life and say I can be anything that I can imagine
