To realize what we do,
What we've been through,
Such a battle
To look at nothing like it's gold
And by the way,
Here's a thank you for giving the chance
And not turning your back
On the hole you saw in our eyes

And this time we'll do it right
Just let us have a try
This is our time and our place
To be seen in a whole different light
It just might change our lives

There isn't time to relax
And we have some questions
What is it like to look and see
That all your prayers have been answered
To look at life and to know it's alright
Is a comfort that we've never had

And this time we'll do it right
Just let us have a try
This is our time and our place
To be seen in a whole different light
A whole different light
A whole different light

And this time we'll do it right
Just let us have a try
This is our time and our place
To be seen in a whole different light
A whole different light
A whole different light
It just might change our lives
