"The Beginning Of The End"

Tender words of love that once came easy
Now seems strained and insincere
Could this be the beginning
The beginning of the end, yeah

You don't tell me that you love me
And your kisses seem untrue
Could this be the beginning
The beginning of the end, yeah

My heart, oh, my love
My everything has always been just for you
Now I pray every day, each and every day
This coldness I find is only in my mind, mind, mind

Now you swear you still love me
I no longer feel you need me near
Could this be the beginning
I believe it's the beginning of the end
The beginning, the beginning of the end
