How could I love anyone else but you

How could I love anyone else but you

I vow to love you

I vow to love you

I will always love you and will always be your love

I will always love you and will always be your love

How could I love anyone else but you

How could I love anyone else but you

I vow to love you

I vow to love you

I will always love you and will always be your love

I will always love you and will always be your love
