

The Take "Breathe"

Well I know what makes this tick around
When the lights are burning out
And the hardest still remains
This world contains

Right now I'll build myself for this
I remember you're your clenched fist
Leaves a bruise that can conceal
But still we feel

Shut up for me she said
Turn it up for you
Look what is happening
This world ain't spinning right

Everybody breathe now
Everybody knows how
Will they listen
Will they listen

Right now kill the violins
Just a puppet on a string
Pulling pieces into place
This hearts mistake

Fight now prepare yourself for this
Any price for one last kiss
Tomorrow comes and it's a game
New round take aim
