"I Ain't Got Nothing"

You know, every house has a door and every room has a floor.

Every fence has a gate and every beast has a mate.

Everybody, everybody's got something but me.

I ain't got nothing.

Every stove has a fire and every car has a tire.

Every fish has a bowl and every shoe has a sole.

Everybody, everybody's got something but me.

I ain't got nothing.

Now I don't care about politics and things across the sea.

All I want all I want to do is love

And have somebody love me. I need I need somebody.

Every lion has a den and every little pig has its pen.

Every road has a way and (they tell me) every dog has its day.

Everybody, everybody's got something but me.

I ain't got nothing I ain't got nothing. Oh no.

(repeat to fade)
