eddie kendricks - lead singer

12 measure musical intro-a tender love we once shared a joyous love we once cared now our love is just a shattered dream so far away from me you're driftin'it seem so hard to try hide

you don't love me no more
you love more you once said your love for goes beyond compare the ecstasy we once felt in our hearts we no longer share and each kiss seem to say farewell my dear there's nothing left of this love is oh so clear
so hard to try hide
you love me no more you just don't love me no more, awww
owwww baby
I can tell that someone else has taken my place though you keep the truth from showing on your face you think you have me fooled but you don't realize I can see the truth when I look into your eyes I can see it your eye
you don't love me no more you don't love me no more - owww IIIIIIIIII-
I can see it, see it, see it
I, I oh I i can see it, see it, see it
