I have three screens to choose from
All night, all stations
My video cassette recorder
Has become my dream monitor

Technology has caught up with me
I am no longer a slave to reality
No one tells me different thoughts
Lest I pull the plug

My remote control
Does my thinking for me
My remote control
Runs my life
My remote control
Is my friend

Music and images
In perfect synchronicity
At last the perfection
Of human thought control

Even this computer rhythms
Are forcing me to conform
But it is impossible
To do freeform life control

My remote control
Does my thinking for me
My remote control
Runs my life
My remote control
Is my friend

My remote control
Does my thinking for me
My remote control
Runs my life
My remote control

Is my friend
