This is ages in the making
This chance I'm finally taking
'Cause tonight is better spent with you
I won't even try to hide
All the things I kept inside
'Cause I'm finally spending time with you

Cause I sit on my roof and
I count up all the stars
From where I am, to
Exactly where you are
And every night finds
Me looking at the sky
Always thinking about
This girl that makes me smile

And I'm so glad to be here
I couldn't picture me here
As early as a month ago
I wrote this in a hurry
So I'm sorry if it's not perfect
But it's the best way I have to show

I sit on my roof and
I count up all the stars
From where I am, to
Exactly where you are
And every night finds
Me looking at the sky
Always thinking about
This girl that makes me smile

And every night
She's why
I try so hard
To get this right
So she might see
Just how much
It really means
To me

Cause I sit on my roof

And count up all the stars
From where I was
To exactly where we both are
And every night finds, me
Looking at the sky,
Always thinking about you,
The girl who makes me smile,

And every night
She's why
I try so hard
To get this right
So she might see
Just how much
It really means
To me

To me
