Just like the sound of talk radio at two seventeen am
She says do you make moments last forever
Are you the guy that they say comes with nights that never end

Just like with every sun rise
We'll think this is what we evnision always wanted
And of course we'll tell all of our friends
That we swear this never happened
That we swear this never happened

Lying in your bed and to yourself
Waiting for the one that loves you
Go ahead hold your breath
But it's useless
Cause time flys faster than ticking bombs
As spring hatches for winter
Go ahead slit your wrists
Go ahead hold your breath
Go ahead slit yoiur wrists

Just like the sound of talk radio at two seventeen am
She says do you make moments last forever
Are you the guy that they say comes with nights that
never end

Just like with every sunrise
We'll think this is what we envision always wanted
And of course we'll tell all of our friends
That we swear this never happened

So count your blessings
Take a chance here and there and you'll be alright
She always has her tv on
She needs to know the latest fashion
They say we're doing just fine
Go ahead hold your breath

Don't be sad beauty queen your someones daughter
Don't be sad beauty queen your someones sister
Don't cry beauty queen
One day you'll be a mother
And of course we'll tell all of our friends
