I met a strange man last night, and I taken him home
with me

with me

Now he done gone and left me, wonder where could my strange man be?

Strange man, strange man, won't you please come back to me?

back to me?

You is my strange man, you've got something that I really need

Hmmm, wonder where is my strange man gone?

Hmmm, wonder where is my strange man gone?

He left me this morning 'n' I've been lonesome all day long

I woke up this morning, half past three, I found my strange man, was standin' over me

Strange man, strange man, tell me where you been Well, I sure feel happy to see you back home again

Strange man, strange man, please don't leave me no

Strange man, strange man, please don't leave me no

Next time you leave me, I'm gonna walk out and lock my door
