I remember the road
And the concrete
Under a blanket of stars
Moving downstream

And I remember the lakeside
And the stories
Watching the moon play on the hills
M.R.E.'s

And I remember the bad days
And the half rooms
Praying the songs came out in time
And in tune

And all the towns, and all the tales
Of all the ones who tried, and failed
I think it's safe to say we are alone

Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright
We can be alright
Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright
We can be alright

And I remember the cold
And the late nights
Bringing a chill to all our bones
And insides

And I remember the daylight
Soaking in the heat
Hearing the hum inside my head
Like a machine

And all the crooks, and all the clowns
That laugh, and dance, and cut you down
I think it's safe to say we are alone

Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright

We can be alright
Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright
We can be alright

(And all the miles that fall away
Focus in on what remains)

Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright
We can be alright
Nighttime enemy, we can make it up this time
We can be alright
We can be alright
Alright
Alright
