

The Transit War "Radar"

Visit "Radar" on MotoLyrics.com

On the radar we can see the colors but you'll never know

If I can ever see you again.

On the radar we can tell the future but you'll never know

If I can ever see you again.

Our worlds are black and white to you

You see our lives as gray and blue.

But I know nights can change if I say different.

But I could never see you again.

The rain is coming down

So why don't we go?

The sky is screaming out

So why don't we go?

On the radar you can see the pattern that will never show

If I can ever see you again.

On the radar we can live forever but we'll never know

If I can ever see you again.

Everywhere

Everywhere we go is where we know

Visit The Transit War page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.