I am your constant sleepy face
I am a smile you can't erase
I'll take up every empty page
And then your mind starts over

I am your sense of self esteem
I am the calm before you scream
When all your hopes have been redeemed
We'll start this whole night over

I am your "caution" safety tape
I am a joke you can't explain
In spite of everything they say
We'll take this whole world over

This is where we belong
At distance from everyone
This is where we belong, where we belong

I am your night out on the town
I am an elementary sound
I'll spill your deepest secrets out
And let your mind start over

I've got some dumb words written down
I've said some brilliant things out loud
When all the roads have been mapped out
We'll start this whole thing over

This is where we belong
At distance from everyone
This is where we belong, where we belong
This is where we belong
At distance from everyone
This is where we belong, where we belong

When all you want is all you need
When all you know is all you'll see
Safety in the airwaves
Safety in the air

This is where we belong

At distance from everyone
This is where we belong, where we belong
This is where we belong
This is where we belong
This is where we belong, where we belong
And this is where we belong
