leave the ghosts that are holding you back, bury them in a paper bag, put em down in an unmarked grave...you'll be damned when your mother finds out, you're not the girl that she once knew now, your gonna finally find your own way, you deserve the best, you should expect nothing less, we could live and bless, if you just say yes, and on a night like this life could change you with a kiss, if you don't second guess, and you go with it i got a car and some money to spend, we could run with the best of them, if you let me steal you away,..... you're my motorcycle mama, and i love you like no other, meet me out by the old highway,.....think of me as a helping hand, nothing more nothing less than that, we could sing all your hardships away
