[Verse 1:]
You left a letter as a clue...
Set me in the air, At the spot, where I first kissed you,
Holdin my head in my hands,
You brushed a tear off my face,
One on one, You confessed that this all you can take,

I'm broken, tired
There ain't nothing left to say
I'm crying (Didn't mean to watch as)
Didn't mean to watch as
You just walked away

[Chorus:]
Just let her go (just let her go)
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)

[Verse 2:]
I should take it all back
All the kisses I gave you
The tears that you left me with
Don't know how to react
On my own, by myself
How could you say goodbye?

I'm broken, tired
I'm crying
Didn't mean to watch as
You just walked away

[Chorus:]
Just let her go
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)

My heart can gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)

[Verse 3:]
It's cold
It's cold
It's cold
It's cold
It's cold in here without you (without you)
It's cold
It's cold
I'm broken

Thought it could be you
When you think of it
Every little piece of it
Is keeping me from turning blue
Had to turn away
Didn't want to see you giving me awaaayyy

[Chorus:]
Just let her go
It's too far in motion
Just let her go (just let her go)
My heart can gain control
It's too late (just a little bit)
It's too far (just a little bit)
You're leaving me behind
Just let her go (just let her go)
